Basic Requirements

A statistical compilation of Hungarian railroad traffic and operations is currently available from overt sources. However, the overt publications are subject to being cut off with little or no warning. There is also believed to be in existence a SECRET statistical compilation of Hungarian railroads inventory of locomotives and rolling stock (by type) and of financial returns such as revenues earned and cost of operation broken down by categories of revenues and costs. This Secret statistical information is of prime importance in assessing the true picture of performance on Hungarian railroads.

Information is required on a continuing basis on international traffic through the international crossing points of Hungary and particularly on traffic through the exchange points on the USSR-Hungarian border including traffic of military personnel and equipment.
